To Whom It May Concern

Re: Testimonial for Grant Training and Safety Services

I have had the pleasure of knowing and dealing with Clive Grant from Grant Training and Safety Services for the past 2 years.

When I was first introduced to Clive I was immediately impressed with his professionalism, his passion for safety and his knowledge not only in Occupational Health, Safety and the Environment but also his knowledge of the construction industry and its many areas.

Over the past 2 years Clive and his team have conducted monthly health safety, environmental and quality site audits on all of Buildcorp Contracting and Buildcorp Interiors construction, fit-out and refurbishment project. These audits have remained fresh and current; they change quickly not only to suit legislative changes but also to take into account best practice and new techniques available.

It has been this ability to keep current with best practice which was invaluable in assisting Buildcorp Contracting receive Federal Safety Commissioner accredited contractor status in November 2008, Clive work tirelessly with the HSE department to further develop the Project Risk management system to one of the best I have seen.

This commitment from GTSS has further developed into areas of the Buildcorp Group such as staff training, providing safety and environmental solutions and equipment, further expert consultancy.

Clive Grant has provided the Buildcorp Group with many different services over the past two years, Clive has also offered myself as a manager in the health safety and environmental arena with so much support, he has more than once listened to me crack under pressure and been the glue that has helped put me back together. Clive has always answered my calls, listened to my rants, offered sound and professional advice and made me feel valued as a client.

I would not hesitate in recommending the services and the people, in particular Clive Grant of Grant Training and Safety Services to any company requiring assistance, advice or guidance in matters of Health, Safety, Environment or Quality.

I do not believe that the Buildcorp Group would be in the same position with regards to our Health, Safety and Environmental performance without the continued support and guidance from GTSS.

Yours faithfully
